Overview

What is the Baghdad Battery?

The Baghdad battery is an artefact that shows evidence of advanced technology in ancient civilizations. It consists of an earthen pot with an iron rod in the centre, surrounded by a copper vessel and possible acidic residue. It is believed to be an early electrochemical battery. We've all been taught that Benjamin Franklin discovered electricity and Alessandro Volta invented the first battery.

Which battery is best for telecom base station backup power?

Among various battery technologies, Lithium Iron Phosphate (LiFePO₄) batteries stand out as the ideal choice for telecom base station backup power due to their high safety, long lifespan, and excellent thermal stability.

What makes a telecom battery pack compatible with a base station?

Compatibility and Installation Voltage Compatibility: 48V is the standard voltage for telecom base stations, so the battery pack's output voltage must align with base station equipment requirements. Modular Design: A modular structure simplifies installation, maintenance, and scalability.

What is a 48V 100Ah LiFePO₄ battery pack?

Our 48V 100Ah LiFePO₄ battery pack, designed specifically for telecom base stations, offers the following features: High Safety: Built with premium cells and an advanced BMS for stable and secure operation. Long Lifespan: Over 2,000 cycles, significantly reducing replacement and maintenance costs.

How do you protect a telecom base station?

Backup power systems in telecom base stations often operate for extended periods, making thermal management critical. Key suggestions include: Cooling System: Install fans or heat sinks inside the battery pack to ensure efficient heat dissipation.

What is a Himax battery?

HIMAX, a professional lithium battery brand, is committed to providing high-performance LiFePO₄ battery solutions for global customers. Our 48V 100Ah LiFePO₄ battery pack, designed specifically for telecom base stations, offers the following features:
