Why is battery energy storage system important in Indonesia?

However, given the challenge of Indonesia's geological landscape, with many off-grid and remote areas, there is growing intermittency issue that hamper the development of solar and wind generation. Hence, the battery energy storage system (BESS) technologies have a critical role in the development of Indonesia's renewable energy.

Is there a large-scale energy storage system in Indonesia?

"Currently, there is no large-scale energy storage system operational in Indonesia. The development of small-scale energy storage technology is being led by the private sector, followed by state utility companies.

Does Indonesia need solar & wind energy storage?

Although, there is no policy mandating the installation of energy storage in solar or wind projects in Indonesia, the abundance of solar and wind resources in Indonesia's archipelago and increased potential demand across industries indicate that BESS demand is poised to grow substantially in the near future.

Does Indonesia's plan to export solar power spur investment?

The plan to export solar power has spurred investments in the manufacturing of components, according to a January 2025 report by the Jakarta-based Institute for Essential Services Reform (IESR). "Foreign solar manufacturers are significantly increasing their investments in Indonesia.

Will Indonesia achieve 77 GW of solar PV capacity by 2030?

IESR Executive Director Fabby Tumiwa explained that Indonesia needs to achieve 77 GW of solar PV capacity by 2030, equivalent to 9-15 GW per year between 2024 and 2030, in order to align with the global target of tripling renewable capacity by 2030 to limit global temperature rise to 1.5°C, as per the Paris Agreement.

How can Indonesia accelerate the adoption of energy storage?

IESR urges the Indonesian government to accelerate the adoption of energy storage, among others, by first improving the regulatory framework and establishing legal certainty to provide adequate compensation for ESS developers, reduce development risks, and boost investor confidence.
