Will Pakistan build a battery energy storage system?

With funding support from the Asian Development Bank's (ADB) High-Level Technology Fund, the country will build its first large-scale, grid-connected Lithium-Ion Battery Energy Storage System (BESS) to dispatch intermittent renewable energy and improve transmission network stability. Pakistan is facing a serious power shortage.

Why are low-price battery energy storage systems coming to Pakistan?

The combination of a glut of lithium, a key battery material, and overcapacity of lower-tier China-made batteries has created a flood of cut-price battery energy storage systems for lower-income countries such as Pakistan.

What will Pakistan's new battery technology do?

With these batteries, Pakistan's National Transmission and Dispatch Corporation Limited—the executing agency, will have a primary and secondary response to power variation and will be able to quickly stabilize frequency. This will avert the need for automatic under-frequency load-shedding.

Are battery storage systems too expensive in Pakistan?

The battery storage systems are still too expensive to be adopted as widely as solar has been in Pakistan in the near future. But distributors say prices are falling rapidly and demand continues to grow.

What is lithium battery used for?

It is utilized for electrical energy storage systems, electric cars, small and big appliances, and portable power tools. Pakistan-based Li Power Green Energy Pvt Ltd. is a company that focuses on the R&D, production, and sales of premium lithium batteries.

Is Pakistan trying to create a more competitive electricity market?

Pakistan's power minister Awais Leghari told the Financial Times that the government was working to create a more competitive electricity market and find other ways to sustain power cost reductions. "I can't stop the evolution of technology," he said. "Competition is a very healthy way to bring about efficiencies in the entire system."
