San Diego Energy Storage Explosion-Proof Container

Overview

What happened at a San Diego Gas & Electric battery storage facility?

A fire inside a San Diego Gas & Electric battery storage facility in Escondido on Thursday ignited lithium-ion batteries in a storage container and prompted the evacuation of about 500 businesses, a fire official said.

What happened at the Escondido lithium-ion storage facility?

Utility officials said the fire at the Escondido lithium-ion storage facility was contained to one of dozens of battery units. Firefighters apply water as fire burns through a lithium battery storage container at the San Diego Gas and Electric N.E. Operations Center in Escondido.

Does Escondido have a shelter-in-place instruction for lithium-ion battery fires?

A shelter-in-place instruction was issued for a slightly wider area surrounding the site. Escondido Fire Department crews attended the scene along with San Diego County Hazmat teams. Hazmat team attendance is mandatory for lithium-ion battery fire incidents.

What happened at Gateway Energy Storage in Otay Mesa?

In May, a fire ignited at the Gateway Energy Storage facility in an industrial park in Otay Mesa, prompting evacuation orders for nearby businesses. That blaze was centered in one of the seven buildings at the 250-megawatt site that stores lithium-ion batteries to help bolster the state's electric grid.

Why did the city of Escondido issue a fire order?

The City of Escondido issued the orders yesterday (5 September) in a Civic Alert, citing an active fire incident at the BESS project, located at the Northeast Operations Yard of California investor-owned utility (IOU) San Diego Gas & Electric (SDG&E).

What happened at LS Power's gateway energy storage facility?

The incident does however come not long after a fire in May at LS Power's Gateway energy storage facility in nearby Otay Mesa, which burned for nearly two weeks.
