Is Shanghai's largest photovoltaic project fully connected to the grid?

Shanghai's largest photovoltaic project is fully connected to the grid! Recently, the largest centralized photovoltaic project in Shanghai, the Shanghai Chongming Port West Fisheries Photovoltaic Complementary Photovoltaic Power Generation Project, was connected to the grid at full capacity.

How much does a PV system cost in China?

The cost of a PV system utilization is calculated based on its power level. The average cost of a PV system is about 10,000 Chinese Yuan [CNY] (~1,430 US Dollars) per kilowatts (kW), including the material, installation, and maintenance cost (Lv & Wang, 2013; Zhang, 2013; Wen & Qiu, 2018).

How efficient is solar hot water system in Shanghai?

In this study,  $T$  was set as 13 based on the literature (Han et al., 2010). Benefit of DSWH system: The solar hot water system efficiency in downtown Shanghai was 42.9% with considering the impact of solar radiation, water temperature, and ambient temperature (Yao et al., 2017). In this study, 42.9% was also adopted as the DSWH system efficiency.

How many rooftops are suitable for PV system utilization?

Based on the rooftop selection criteria, we found 165,529 rooftops within the study area suitable for PV system utilization, with a total cost of 151.27 billion CNY. The total electric power generation in 20 years is  $4.63 \times 10^{11}$  kWh, with a total bonus of 20 years PV system utilization is around 577.57 billion CNY.

Can GPU-based solar radiation estimation model be used to estimate solar radiation?

The GPU-based solar radiation estimation model SHORTWAVE-C proposed by Huang et al. (2015) was applied in this study. This model requires two input datasets – DSM and cloud cover data. Due to the large study area, the computation cost would be too high to estimate the solar radiation within the entire study area.
